

To whom it may concern,

I am writing this recommendation letter for my former student Chen Zhuge, who graduated and obtained his Bachelor degree in June 2012. Chen Zhuge was admitted to my soccer robot research group in January 2012. As his supervisor of Bachelor's thesis, I know his records of academic work and moral conduct quite well. In his six months' study of soccer robot target identification and tracking, he showed great passion and concentration on image processing, and took part in the coding of the target identification program. He eventually made impressive success of the thesis.

As far as I know, Chen Zhuge wishes to continue his study in Tallinn University of Technology. Considering the prerequisite knowledge he has acquired and his attitude of undertaking the work, I strongly recommend Chen Zhuge to study in your university and appreciate your favorable consideration of his application.

Sincerely,

Yihu Huang, PhD
Associate Professor
Faculty of Automation and Electrical Engineering
Qingdao University of Science and Technology